PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Welcome 2021. Last year was tumultuous no matter how you look at it. Time to set the positivity clock. As artists we create. Can we also create positivity? Many of us find our inner peace in creation - the joy of discovering something unfold before us, the concentration and the whimsy, the trying new ways and new ideas - we are all creators. The more I give myself space to create, the better I feel. Artists can lift the spirits of people they know and people they will never know. Like a teacher, you never quite know where your influence stops. So, I'm looking for ways to create positivity and interactivity in my work.

In a year of lockdown community seems to be more of a blessing than I ever noticed before. And though our meetings were curtailed in 2020, I feel we kept up the community in new positive ways with our collage exchanges throughout the summer, fall, and winter. I hope everyone chose to participate in at least one of those events. If not, we are continuing our exchanges throughout 2021 – and beyond— so join the mail art community and share your art! Use these exchanges to try something new, to experiment, to stretch. View all the exchange galleries via links on our website Shows page: <https://nwcollagesociety.org/shows.htm>. I believe this interactivity with members is a positivity highlight—it certainly has brought me a few smiles. If you didn't sign up for the Spring Round Robin, you could still randomly send a postcard to someone on our roster - just for the fun of it. No timeline obligation. Our yearly member roster is sent out to members each January.

Thank you to all our presenters in 2020 who forged the way with Zoom, YouTube etc. to give us art inspiration and community. We will continue our Zoom presentations through June.

~ Gina

2021 Meetings are pre-recorded or on Zoom until further notice

MISSION

The NWCS is organized to foster appreciation and interest in the recognized medium of collage. It is organized as a social club within the meaning of § 501(c)(7) of the Internal Revenue Code. Any person may become an NWCS member upon payment of annual dues. The NWCS is comprised of artists from diverse backgrounds, all of whom share a common interest in collage. The group provides a forum for the exchange of ideas among members through general meetings, which include presentations by local artists or similar programs, workshops, retreats, opportunities to enter juried shows, circulation of an online newsletter, and recognition of members' accomplishments.

JOIN

Any person who wishes to join the organization may do so by paying annual dues. Those interested in joining are welcome to attend a general membership meeting initially as a guest. Prospective members may visit the NWCS's website to learn about the organization, see upcoming meeting dates, view the galleries of works in recent shows and samples of members' art, and read current and past newsletters. Interested artists may contact the Membership Chair for information about joining the organization.

KEY ACTIVITIES

Membership Meetings

The NWCS hosts five general membership meetings each fiscal year in September, November, February, April, and June at a facility in Shoreline, Washington, just north of Seattle. The meetings include time for general membership business, opportunities for members to socialize, and lectures by local artists, which might include visual presentations of their work or their process and/or demonstrations.

Weekend Retreat

The NWCS hosts a weekend retreat, which is open to both members and non-members, at a conference center on the northern coast of Washington every February. Retreat participants bring art materials to use in their own collage projects or to share with others, and they exchange ideas and techniques through discussions and demonstrations.

Meet-Ups

Throughout the year, members host drop-in, meet-up collage days in various locations around western Washington, at which individuals can engage in the art of collage and non-members can learn about the NWCS.

Exhibitions

The NWCS organizes two to three juried exhibitions annually, which are generally open only to members, but occasionally include the works of non-members. These shows might have a theme or other specifications for entries, and they have appeared at several different venues in Washington.

FEBRUARY PROGRAM: TEXT-OLGY

NWCS Program Chair Kathryn Kim will soon lead an interactive workshop on “Text-ology,” discussing and demonstrating at least five methods for adding text to collages. New member Zia Gipson, who was the juror for our 2019 exhibit at the Pacific Northwest Quilt & Fiber Arts Museum in La Conner, will be helping to field questions. NWCS members will receive an email a few days before the workshop, containing the Zoom link and a list of suggested tools and supplies. The workshop will begin at 10:30 a.m. on February 16, 2021, and will last for approximately two hours. Please join your fellow collagists as we explore the power of words.

APRIL PROGRAM: FEATURING KATHY ROSS

In April, we will hear from Kathy Ross, who uses map and book fragments, as well as tea and cookie tins, to create bright and whimsical collaged sculptures. Kathy has received numerous awards for her work, and several of her pieces are in museum or other institutional collections. She says that “the world rushes into every aspect” of her life, that maps “cover everything, charting a course that plots the intersection of [her] life with the world, and that the world isn’t “Out There,” but rather that we are “made of the same stuff” as the world and are an integral “part” of it. Kathy’s presentation will be available via Zoom on April 17, 2021. Please tune in to hear Kathy’s unique and inspiring perspectives on art and life. For more information about Kathy Ross, visit Kathy's website

NWCS VIRTUAL RETREAT

Unfortunately, the ongoing pandemic has compelled us to cancel the in-person NWCS retreat at the Warm Beach Conference Center for 2021. However, we are planning a free “Mini-Retreat” on Saturday March 6th 10:00 am to 1:00 pm via Zoom.

We will work together on our collages as a community, inspire one another, and share support. Join the NWCS community from your own studio and say hello to new members and long standing members whom you may not have seen in a while. If you’re feeling inclined, you’re welcome to join with two devices, as a second, downward facing camera like from a phone can serve to give us a glimpse of what you’re working on in real time!

Anyone wishing to do a 5 min demo during this event, please contact Wendy.

If you’d like to follow a theme (optional) it will be “House and Home”. Sign up for our Mini-Retreat with Wendy by emailing Wendy-james@hotmail.com

On a hopeful note, we are reserving our space for 2022’s NWCS retreat.

Our Winter Spring member project, a Round Robin journal, has begun! Groups of six or seven members are busily creating and sending off their journals. A total of 31 members are participating. Each month through June members create a collage in one of the group member's journal. Once all group members have completed their collages in June the journal will be returned to the maker of the journal with six or seven amazing works of art. What could be more fun?

The NWCS Board met on January 19th and one of the agenda items was the member projects that we have done this year....ATCs, Postcards, and the latest Round Robin. We have gotten a plethora of positive comments about our community-building activities. Many members keep asking what will the next project be. We decided that we would create a new board position called Member Activities Coordinator. This person will continue to put forth activities for which members can continue to challenge their creativity. John Arbuckle volunteered to be the Member Activities Coordinator for the foreseeable future. If you have any ideas for collage community-building projects, send them to John. Several ideas have already been sent his way. His email address is: johnner55@yahoo.com

Spring 2021 Show: ~~Rock~~ Paste, Paper, Scissors

The juror, Lynn Hanson, has made her decisions and we are off and running toward the spring 2021 show. All artists were sent an email indicating the pieces of art that either made it into the show or did not. Every entrant has at least one piece in the upcoming show. There were 70 artworks submitted and 57 were accepted by 28 artists. Congratulations to all artists who will be participating! The show opens on March 4 and will run until April 24. Yes, that is correct! The show has been extended by one month. Watch for more details on the online reception which may be a Zoom or a video.

Adam Wynn, a UK artist from the Birmingham Collage Collective, is organizing an international collage exchange. You can follow the project on Instagram - @thecollageexchange

- Submission to be an original, unframed analog collage
  - Artworks to be signed and dated on the front with artist name and title on the back
  - No theme
  - Artwork to be no smaller than A5 but no bigger than A4
  - Artwork to be submitted via post (to the UK)
  - Entry fee £10 via PayPal to thecollageexchange@gmail.com (to cover p&p - remaining funds to be donated to charity)
  - Deadline March 31, 2021
  - Submissions will be digitally archived then sent out in April/May 2021
  - Collages will be shared on the Instagram mid/late 2021 and include crediting
- The entry fee is per artist, but multiple artists may send collages in one package to share the postage costs.

Please send the collage to the address listed above.

How-to World Collage Day

Saturday, February 20, 2021, 11am PST

NWCS's very own Suzanne Winkel will be one of the panelists in this online forum! Panelists will share about their experience hosting World Collage Day events and activities in the past and what they are planning for 2021. Folks from Kolaj Magazine will offer a primer on creating your own event or activity. They will talk about how World Collage Day will unfold in light of the COVID-19 pandemic. And they will reveal the 2021 World Collage Day Poster Artist. Bring your ideas and questions!

Did you know that this month marks the start of the third annual FEBRULLAGE? The Scandinavian Collage Museum and Edinburgh Collage Collective invite you to:

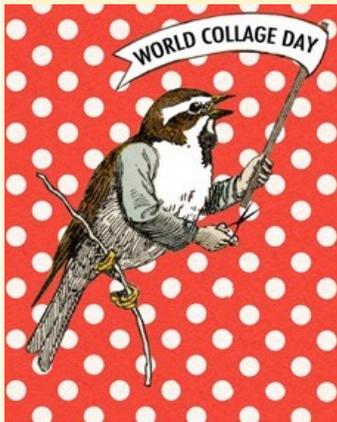

1. Make a collage based on the daily prompt (analog or digital).
2. Post it on Instagram
3. Add the hashtags: #februllage and #februllage2021 .

You can set your own goal. For example, this can be one collage each day or several each week... the decision is entirely yours! Februllage is about fun and collage, creativity and cutouts, inspiration and practice, dedication and challenge, it's for everyone around the world!

They will showcase a selection of the collages each day on instagram, but there will be so many more collages than what they can highlight. Februllage 2019 had over 6000 contributions, and 2020 saw over 23,000 collages!

Instagram is best used with your smartphone, but you are able to visit the "Februllage" official Instagram page HERE even from a computer.

WORLD COLLAGE DAY

Did you know the fourth annual World Collage Day will be celebrated on May 8th? Let's make a collaged postcard to send to another member. Yes, make a 4 x 6 postcard to send to one of our own NW Collage Society artists on or before May 8th. It is easy! Find a piece of heavy matte board—or cereal box cardboard works well....even 140 lb. watercolor paper is perfect—collage on one side and paint out and write a message of celebration on the other. Not much to it. If you need an idea, just head to Pinterest and search for mail art or postcard art. You can find many examples online or go to John's blog, www.artjuvenation.blogspot.com, for even more ideas.

Put a stamp on it and get ready to mail it just before May 8th!

All you have to do is sign up to participate is to let John Arbuckle know that you wish to be included in the World Collage Day NWCS Postcard Exchange. Send him an email between now and April 30. On May 1 he will send out the list of participants and directions on who your postcard recipient will be.

1. Send John an email to commit to participating in the World Collage Day postcard exchange: activities@nwcollagesociety.org
2. Create your collage on a 4 x 6 substrate
3. Stamp it and mail it after May 1st but before May 8th. Your recipient's address will be sent to you on May 1st.

Deadline for letting John know is April 30.
Happy collaging!

ARIZONA
COLLECTIVE

NWCS members Suzanne Winkel & Dawn Hudson, with the help of their friends in Arizona, have been tirelessly cutting ephemera to distribute to artists all around the world. Sign up for a free packet via the link on their Instagram account @arizonacollagecollective

Members of the NWCS will be hosting a live online event with the Everett Public Library via Crowdcast on World Collage Day, May 8th, 2021. Stay tuned for more details!

Circulaire132

Quebec-based collagist RF Côté is celebrating World Collage Day 2021 with a special 'zine as part of his ongoing Circulaire132 project. He has made almost 300 of these hand assembled publications.

To participate, create 25 original collages (no copies) that are each 8 cm x 8 cm (3.15"x3.15"). In return, participants will receive an original copy of the 'zine by mail. Collages received after the 1 April 2021 deadline or that do not meet the requirements will be published in a regular issue of Circulaire132.
